

Name: Mutangana Joseph
Course Name: General English Group E

Exercise 1: Fill in the blanks with the correct relative pronoun (who, whom, whose, which, that):

The woman who lives next door is a doctor.

The book that I bought yesterday is on the table.

I have a friend whose father is a lawyer.

The car that was parked outside the house belongs to my neighbor.

The man whom you met yesterday is my uncle.

This is the restaurant which we often go to.

The teacher who is speaking now is very kind.

The movie that we watched last night was amazing.

The person who you are looking for has left the office.

The company which you work for is very successful.

Exercise 2: Combine the sentences using an appropriate relative pronoun:

The boy is very intelligent. He sits next to me in class.

The boy who is very intelligent sits next to me in class.

She is a talented artist. Her paintings are displayed in galleries.

She is a talented artist whose painting are displayed in galleries.

The book was interesting. I borrowed it from the library.

The book that I borrowed from the library, was interesting

They are my neighbors. Their dog is very friendly.

The dog which is very friendly, belongs to my neighbors.

The man is my grandfather. I saw him yesterday.

The man whom I saw yesterday, is my grandfather.

Exercise 3: Choose the correct relative pronoun:

The girl _____ you met at the party is my cousin. a) who

b) whom

c) which

The house _____ we rented last summer was beautiful. a) that
b) whose
c) whom

I know the person _____ gave you the gift. a) who
b) which
c) whose

The teacher _____ taught us history is retiring. a) who
b) which
c) that

The company _____ I worked for went bankrupt. a) that
b) whose
c) whom

Exercise 3: Combine the sentences using no sooner...than, scarcely...when, or hardly...when.

She arrived at the office. The meeting started.

She hardly arrived at the office when the meeting started.

I closed the window. It started to rain.

I scarcely closed the window when it started to rain.

They entered the theater. The movie began.

They scarcely entered the theater when the movies began.

He finished his presentation. The audience started clapping.

He hardly finished his presentation when the audience started clapping .

I opened the book. I found a typo on the first page.

No sooner had I opened the book than I found a typo on the first page.